

Abstract:

With the help of a simple example of nonadditive quantity (average velocity) the connection between reality and mathematical rules is commented.